

Restaurant and Bar Food Safety Inspection Roundup

The Great Plains Examiner used records kept by city inspectors to compile a list of the violations committed by restaurants and bars in Bismarck from 2009-2012. Each year, the city inspects more than 400 establishments such as hotels, schools, private clubs, caterers, assisted-living facilities and childcare centers. Each of the 126 establishments listed below serve food or drinks as a primary part of their business. The list shows the total number of violations at each establishment during the past four years, as well as a breakdown of critical and non-critical violations. Establishments that have not been open for four years are marked with asterisks.
